County Tax Payers To Get "Bad News" During Next Week

Tax Bills for Dixon Will Be Up 26 Per Cent, Abbott Reveals

Residents of Dixon and Lee county can expect their annual "bad news" installments in the mail on or about May 27. County Treasurer Kenneth D. Abbott announced this morning that tax payers throughout the county will receive their 1946 tax notices during the final week of

Estimates

Approximate increases in tax bills this year over those of last year were estimated on a percentage basis as follows this morning by County Treasurer Kenneth D. Abbott: Amboy, 21; Ashton, 25.5; Paw Paw, 44.2; Sublette, 21.7; Franklin Grove, 23.7; Steward, 29.3; Nelson, 40.3; West Brooklyn, 40; Compton, 36.7 and Harmon, 21.7.

May. All of the approximately 20,000 property tax bills will be placed in the mails here Monday, he said.

Anticipating an early rush, he emphasized that the penalty deadline, legally set for June 1, has been extended by state consent to July 1, giving taxpayers all of the month of June to pay their personal property tax and the first installment on real estate bills. The second installment on real estate bills is due Sept. 1.

Delayed by Court Action
Abbott and his staff of workers, Mrs. Myrtle Byers, Mrs. Gertrude Schultz and Mrs. Bernice Harms, have been working feverishly for the past month preparing the bills for delivery.

Halleck Says GOP Congress Will Not Heed Veto Threats

Washington, May 23—(AP)—House Republican leader Halleck of Indiana took a swing today at talk of veto threats against various big bills.

The Republican congress, he told reporters, intend to "write good bills and send them to the White House" regardless of veto talk.

"To continuously hold up a veto as a threat," Halleck said, "is a usurpation of the legislative prerogatives of congress."

"I don't think that I should run down to the White House on every issue and ask the president what kind of legislature he will take. That would make us another rubber stamp congress such as we had when I first came here (in 1935)."

President Truman, Halleck conceded, never has said in advance that he would veto a bill unless it were tailored to his orders.

But, the party leader continued, some legislators who seem to think they speak for Truman have been warning of vetoes of tax, labor, postal to portal pay, wool and other bills.

May Be Yelling "Wolf"
"They may be bear stories, for all I know," he said. "Maybe they are just yelling 'wolf.' After all, the president signed the portal pay bill."

"So these people may or may not be speaking for the president. I'm not looking for vetoes, and I don't think we should look for vetoes."

The Republican leader was still steaming over a skirmish with Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) on the house floor yesterday.

Three Persons Perish in Keokuk, Ia., Blaze

Keokuk, Ia., May 23—(AP)—Three persons burned to death in a fire which destroyed a three-room house on the river front early today.

Fire Chief John Brochey identified the victims as George Lacey, 60; his wife, Rose 50; and John Smith, about 50.

The chief said the blaze apparently began from one of the three smoking in bed. Firemen were hampered in fighting the blaze by lack of water. There were no hydrants near the scene of the blaze, which occurred on the Mississippi river front near the industrial district.

Jury's Verdict in Lynching Case Shocks Many of Nation's Editors

(By The Associated Press)
Many of the nation's newspapers described a jury's acquittal of 28 men in the Greenville, S. C., mass lynching trial as disgraceful, shocking or shameful, but several went on to express editorially the belief that the state's effort to convict the defendants would serve as a precedent and a warning in the future.

The New Orleans Times-Picayune, highly critical of the verdict as were some other southern newspapers, said it "must shock every law-abiding citizen in the south."

"As for 'northern interference,' this is one instance in which that frequently valid protest holds no water whatsoever," the Times-Picayune said. "This was a southern matter, and right poorly was it dealt with."

No Improvement in Condition of First Mother of Country

"No Perceptible Change" Says Mrs. Truman's Physician Today

Grandview, Mo., May 23—(AP)—President Truman's "very weak" mother showed no improvement today, raising the possibility he may remain here indefinitely unless there is a decided change for the better.

Truman told reporters at 9:30 a. m. (CDT) that Mrs. Martha E. Truman's condition "was just about the same" this morning and that she "didn't have a very good night."

The chief executive talked with reporters as he and his wife left their hotel in Kansas City to return to his mother's bedside here.

There has been no perceptible improvement in nearly two days. A little more than an hour after the president's return here Brig. General Wallace H. Graham, presidential physician, sent word to reporters:

"There has been no perceptible change in Mrs. Truman's condition. She spent a fairly restful night in her new oscillating bed."

Graham tersely informed newsmen last night that her condition was "unchanged." He had expressed hope Wednesday of gradual improvement.

$2,200 Robbery in Harmon Revealed

Burglars using either a truck or car broke through a barge rear window in the Lloyd Considine tavern, Harmon, recently to carry off whisky and cigarettes valued by Considine at $2,200, it was learned today.

Questioned about reports of the robbery this morning, Sheriff Gilbert P. Finch said that approximately 50 cases of whisky and an undetermined amount of cigarettes were taken from the tavern one night last week. A list of the merchandise stolen was not available.

The burglars gained entrance to the building by prying bars from a rear window and breaking a storm window, he said.

Tracks showed, he said, that a car or truck had been backed up to the building to load the merchandise.

Today's Acts, Talks in Nation's Capital Summarized by AP

Activities on Capitol Hill Briefed by Writers for Telegraph Readers

Washington, May 23—(AP)—In another economy move the house appropriations committee today recommended a $381,427-742 slash—32 percent—in president Truman's budget recommendation for the agriculture department.

As recommended by the committee, the bill would give the department $307,143,576 for the fiscal year starting July 1. This would be $467,542,475 under what it had to spend this year.

If approved, the cut would increase to slightly more than $2,000,000,000 the total reductions voted by the house in Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget. The house is aiming at a total reduction of $6,000,000,000.

The committee's major cuts were directed at the Farmers' Home Administration—an offshoot of the old Farm Security Administration; the Soil Conservation Service; the crop insurance program and the school lunch program.

The senate, meanwhile, continued debate on the income tax reduction bill, with Republicans claiming the strength to block a Democratic proposal to delay action until June 10.

A vote on the proposal of Senator George (D-Ga) has been set for Monday. George contends, with almost solid Democratic support, that the senate should wait until June 10, when it should know pre-

Retired Teachers in Session Wednesday Eve

Miss Agnes Conley entertained the Retired Teachers club at the Loveland Community House, Wednesday, May 21. After a brief business meeting, Miss Minet Wagner, the president, introduced L. W. Miller who discussed teacher legislation at Springfield, Miss Bora Seals, then gave her talk on gardens. She started with the Garden of Eden and described the ways and accomplishments of gardeners down through the ages.

The gardens of Babylon, Egypt, Greece and Rome were presented. Then the gardens of the middle ages on the Continent and in England. The art of gardening in the east was discussed. Finally the American garden of which Mt. Vernon is the formal type of the colonial period. New England had her gardens of flowers, vegetables and herbs. The oriental roof garden is reproduced in the gardens of Rockefeller Center, New York.

Miss Conley served delicious refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed.

Inmate Admits Part in Two Burglaries

Melvin Martin, 12, an inmate at the Dixon state hospital, has admitted taking part in the burglary at the H & B Scooter sales, Palmyra avenue, and the Prince Castle, 216 River street, Wednesday night, Sheriff G. P. Finch announced this morning.

Martin, who was questioned at the state hospital yesterday after he returned there, implicated two other youthful inmates in the burglaries, Finch said. They were identified as Eugene Mioletti and James Williams, both still missing from the institution.

Finch said the youth related that he returned to the hospital after Mioletti and Williams rode off on the bicycle they took from the H & B sales room, leaving him alone. They used a fishing pole, taken along with a flashlight from a car near Borden's plant, to break into the Palmyra avenue building, the boy revealed.

The fishing pole was found in the building and is now in the custody of the sheriff, while city police found the bicycle at the south end of the Peoria avenue bridge, along with the flashlight and food.

The burglars were insufficiently

yet, however, to halt the insects, which also were being combatted by machines that blew poisoned mash into their 12-mile front and by frantic farmers who were even pouring oil into irrigation ditches in an attempt to stem the advance.

They now are only nine miles from one of the richest farm areas in eastern Oregon.

Oregon Trail Loaded With Cricket Horde

Ordinance, Ore., May 23—(AP)—The old Oregon trail highway was red with crickets on a six-mile stretch west of here today as millions of the migrating insects moved closer to rich farmlands, despite the efforts of farmers and seagulls.

The seagulls, virtually unknown in this dry wheat country until they descended in large flocks yesterday, were attacking the northwest flank of the crickets.

Their numbers were insufficient, however, to halt the insects, which also were being combatted by machines that blew poisoned mash into their 12-mile front and by frantic farmers who were even pouring oil into irrigation ditches in an attempt to stem the advance.

They now are only nine miles from one of the richest farm areas in eastern Oregon.

Ex-House Sergeant Given Prison Term

Washington, May 23—(AP)—Kenneth Romney, former house sergeant-at-arms, was sentenced today to serve from one to three years in federal prison on a charge of concealing a $143,863 shortage in his office accounts.

The sentence was imposed in Federal district court by Justice Alexander Holtzoff who said he was dealing leniently because the shortage occurred a great many years ago and two other people who apparently had some part in it are beyond the law.

Holtzoff referred to former Representative John H. Smithwick (D-Fla) 78, who now resides in Georgia.

He said the evidence indicated some checks Romney had cashed for Smithwick had never been paid and they apparently represented a good portion of the shortage. But Holtzoff said the statute of limitations prevents Smithwick from being accused.

Arkansas Negro Is Held for Stabbing

(By The Associated Press)

Jackson, N. C., May 23—Sheriff A. C. Stephenson said today his deputies were combing the Roanoke river area in search of the body of a Negro known simply as "Bush." He said the Negro had been taken by armed, masked men from the Northhampton county jail at Jackson last night.

Forrest City, Ark., May 23—(AP)—A Negro farm man hand, captured by a sheriff's posse after an eight-hour hunt through dense east Arkansas woodlands, was held in an undisclosed jail today in connection with the knife slaying of Mrs. Ethel Ellis Boyd, 35-year-old Forrest City cab owner and driver.

Sheriff R. W. West said a coronor's jury had recommended that Willie Lee Duke, 40, be charged with first degree murder.

Duke was seized in a wooded area known as Rose Lake, five miles west of here, late yesterday hours after the bloody body of Mrs. Boyd was found in a country roadside ditch.

The farm worker made a statement immediately that he killed the woman cab driver but "didn't know why," Sheriff West reported.

Republicans Intend Cancelling Billion of Appropriations

Sen. Bridges Says Huge Unexpended Sums Are To Be Reclaimed

Washington, May 23—(AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) said today Republicans intend to cancel $1,000,000,000 in appropriations voted by the last Democratic-controlled congress in the GOP drive to cut 1948 federal spending at least $4,500,000,000 below President Truman's estimate.

Bridges, chairman of the senate appropriations committee, told a reporter a $41,832,000 fund transfer the Republicans got through congress yesterday by some fast financial footwork "will help out," but he added the proposed $1,000,000,000 cutback in old appropriations will be needed to make the savings the senate has pledged.

"I believe we can show a reduction of $4,500,000,000 under the president's $37,500,000,000 figure if we can hold the economy line on army, navy, agriculture and other appropriations that are coming along," the New Hampshire senator said.

The old appropriations which the Republicans hope to cut represent money which the last congress approved in advance for actual spending "in the year beginning July 1. The process of reclaiming some of this money for the treasury already has been going forward with several bills carrying "rescissions" of the previous appropriation. But Bridges did not specify which agencies are to feel the blow of the new economy axe.

Payments are Spread
The federal budget is based on actual payments made out of the treasury and thus does not always tally with appropriations. This is because congress sometimes spreads the payments over more than one fiscal year.

On this expenditure basis, the Republicans claimed they cut Truman's budget an additional $41,820,000 yesterday. At a third time congress, without a word,

Airborne Hospitals Army Air Force Plan

Washington, May 23—(AP)—The army air forces has blueprints of complete hospitals which could be dropped by parachute on battlefields or disaster-stricken communities.

The idea has been submitted to the AAF's air surgeon, Maj. Gen. Malcolm C. Grow, by several aircraft engineering firms and serious attention is being given the project, AAF officers said today.

Sketches an abluements so far prepared include these proposals: The hospital would be made up of individual units, each complete in itself, such as operating rooms, x-ray rooms and quarters for patients.

Each unit would be a separate fuselage, capable of being released in the air or detached after the airplane had made a normal landing.

The air is a matter of debate. Some designers suggest that a comparatively small chute be attached to the top of the unit for guiding purposes and that the speed of descent be checked by the use of rockets shooting downward and set off by a proximity fuse as the unit nears the earth.

Growing Fuel Oil Shortage Menaces Oil-Heated Homes

May Says Lumber Firm Sold Before War Quiz Started

Washington, May 23—(AP)—Former Congressman Andrew J. May testified today a Kentucky lumber company was sold before he learned of a congressional investigation of his wartime dealings with munitions makers Henry and Murray Garsson, reputed owners of the firm.

The government has charged that the Cumberland lumber company was sold in an attempt to "cover up" $55,000 in bribes allegedly given to May by the Garssons while he was House military committee chairman. The Garssons are May's co-defendants at the trial on conspiracy charges.

As he neared an end of direct testimony and prepared to face cross examination, May said he learned about a senate committee investigation of his connections with the Garssons "either about the first of June, 1946, or maybe a few days before, I don't remember."

Sold Company in April
"Was that before or after the sale took place—the sale of the Cumberland lumber company for $40,000?" A defense attorney asked.

"The sale was in April. It would have been after the sale took place," May said.

The government contends that May received most of the alleged bribes by way of Garsson financing of the lumber firm. May said the Garssons owned the company and he only acted as an agent for them in the firm's operations.

May said his first knowledge that a senate investigation was in progress came when attorneys for the senate war investigating committee came to him, asked for and got documents concerning the company.

Black Politics Charge
Trial Justice Henry A. Schwelb, had blocked a defense attempt to link the senate committee's probe to politics.

Charles J. Margiotti, counsel for the Garssons, led up to the matter by asking May whether former Senator Mead (D-NY), then committee chairman, was active in the inquiry. May replied that Mead was.

"Was Senator Mead at the time of this investigation a candidate?" (Continued on Page 6)

Red's Affiliations End in Conviction

Washington, May 23—(AP)—A Federal district court jury has convicted Carl Aldo Marzani, former state department official, of making false statements to conceal communist affiliations from government investigators.

Justice Richmond B. Keach perborn Marzani to remain at liberty while his attorney prepares a motion for a new trial.

The maximum penalty under the jury's verdict late yesterday could be 110 years in prison and a $110,000 fine.

The government charged Marzani made the false statements to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Civil Service Commission and the state department in order to keep his job.

Specifically he was accused of denying falsely that he was a member of the communist party, attended its meetings in New York, used the party alias Tony Whales and made speeches against the draft.

Government witnesses identified him as a communist party official in New York who once made a speech declaring "the time is ripe for revolution in this country."

Marzani testified he was a Williams College Phi Beta Kappa and a graduate of Oxford who helped pick the targets for the Doolittle raid on Tokyo.

Demand for Petroleum Products 20 Pct. Above Peak in Wartime

New York, May 23—(AP)—Some industrialists and home owners who ran away from John L. Lewis' coal miners a few months ago are running back again for winter insurance against a growing fuel oil shortage.

The specter of empty fuel oil tanks next winter is considered so real by one big eastern marketer that he is quoted as considering non-renewal of the industrial contracts "so that preference can be given to purchase for home heating."

In Washington, Max Ball, director of the interior department's oil and gas division, said the nation's oil production plant was running at near capacity and "a slip anywhere" might mean cold homes and idle factories next winter.

To ease the situation Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey has changed over its big refinery at Bayonne from oil to coal, freeing more than 1,000 barrels of fuel oil daily for consumer needs. The refinery is said to be operating at 120 percent capacity and is attempting a further increase.

Elsewhere refineries operated by Standard of California and other companies are said to be considering a switch to coal.

Demand Up 20 Per Cent

The American Petroleum Institute said that the demand for petroleum products was nearly 20 percent above wartime peaks.

It said part of the increase could be traced to the wider use of tractors and mechanized equipment by farmers for the spring ploughing.

The basic cause, however, was said by leaders to be inadequate refineries and pipelines, overworked by the war and stifled since V-J day by material bottlenecks.

Because of strain of working too long at over-capacity, a number of refineries have temporarily ceased operation, reducing daily production by about 200,000 barrels, the API said.

New refining and transportation facilities are under construction but it will be more than a year before they can make a contribution to the general supply, a Jersey Standard spokesman said.

May Reduce Exports

In Washington, Russell Brown, general counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America said he believes it is necessary for the oil industry to "stretch our producing capacity a little farther."

"Perhaps, as during the war, it will be necessary to make temporary sacrifices of conservation standards and produce at greater than the maximum efficient rate," he said in a letter to E. A. Bardey, association president.

"It may be that after careful study we will find it best to temporarily reduce the amount of oil being exported."

He warned a crude shortage

POPPY DAY

SATURDAY, MAY 24th in DIXON

The Poppy is a significant reminder that the best tribute any American can pay the memory of those who live, fought and died that freedom might be ours is to pledge himself to living democratically day to day.

When a person approaches you with a jingling coin box and says "Buy a Poppy," she may not know you've bought already . . . unless you're wearing one. Just give her a smile . . . and say, "I've done my share" . . . and she'll understand.

A MESSAGE FOR THE AMERICAN PEOPLE TO REMEMBER . . .

Sad, yet proud, Uncle Sam thinks of all the soldiers dead of wars gone by. The faces of the men who fought in the Mexican War, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War and World War I pass in review. And Memorial Day, soldiers of World War II will be added to that parade of heroes, those gallant and courageous men on Bataan, Corregidor, those in Australia, those men on native islands, the Sailors, the Marines and the Merchant Marines.

Americans everywhere feel sadness for the lives lost, but only pride when they think of the justice done by our own flying forces, the navy and soldiers stationed all over the face of the earth. Liberty is the name of that cause. The American way will be done in every way possible to PRESERVE FREEDOM AND DEMOCRACY, THE CAUSE FOR WHICH SO MANY HAVE FOUGHT AND GIVEN THEIR LIVES.

Illinois Senate for UnAmerican Probe by New State Body

Illinois American Legion Backs Move to Set Up Special Commission

Springfield, Ill., May 23—(AP)—Establishment of a 15 member state commission to investigate seditious and un-American activities has been recommended by the Illinois senate.

The senate passed and sent to the house yesterday a bill to create the commission. The measure was sponsored by Senator Paul Boyles (R-Mt Vernon) and backed by the Illinois American Legion.

Boyles said he had heard reports of "un-American activities in our colleges and universities—tax-supported and tax-exempt schools."

"All of this bears investigation," he said.

Also approved by the senate and referred to the house was legislation to:

Appropriate a total of more than $50,000 for biennial expenses of the public health revenue, public safety, labor and military and naval departments.

Appropriate $150,000 for state purchase of lands and waters for public recreation, hunting and fishing.

Pay 10 per cent of the purse to breeders of an Illinois bred horse winning a race.

Measures to carry out Governor Green's $30,000,000 housing and land clearance program were introduced yesterday in the senate and house.

Would Increase Guard The bills provide for use of public funds for acquisition, clearing, and resale of land for redevelopment projects by private enterprise, and for housing accommodations for persons displaced by redevelopment projects.

Another new administration bill would authorize an increase in the strength of the Illinois National Guard and naval militia from 25,000 to 45,000, and lower the minimum enlistment age from 18 to 17.

The governor signed into law legislation amending the road and bridge act to permit contracts of up to $500, instead of $200 at present, to be entered into without approval of the county highway superintendent.

He also signed a bill permitting county boards to relocate state-aid roads with approval of the state public works and buildings department.

Tokyo's Price Fixing Closes Small Theaters

TOKYO—(AP)—Small theaters, which once drew crowds all over Tokyo, are finding the post-war going tough.

Operators say their trouble is the government-fixed admission prices, which make it as cheap to attend a plushy theater as a neighborhood house.

Two famous airmen Captain Eddie Rickenbacker and H. T. (Dick) Merrill have set a new official time Miami-New York commercial record of three hours, 29 minutes and 45 seconds.

The new Eastern Airlines four engine plane, carrying Captain Rickenbacker and with Dick Merrill, who made the first round trip flight to Europe and return, at the controls, completed its Miami-New York record run after establishing another record on the same day, May 17, a new Buick-Miami transcontinental commercial speed record of 6 hours, 54 minutes, and 57 seconds.

The Miami-New York flight averaged 315 miles per hour. It shattered the commercial record of 4 hours and 1 minute, set last December.

On the 2,348 mile flight from California to Miami the plane sped at an average of 340 miles an hour to better the record set a month ago by a Pan American Douglas DC-6 of 7 hours, 14 minutes.

Blood Count Test for All Navy Men at Bikini

Washington, May 23—(AP)—The Navy Dept. announced that a complete blood count has been ordered for all men still in service who took part in the Bikini atom bomb tests last year.

The order was described by a Bureau of Medicine officer as a "routine followup".

Secretary Forrestal directed that the checkup be made in an order to all ships and stations dated May 19 and made public today.

"It is directed that a complete blood count be performed on all personnel now on active duty who were attached to Operation Cross Roads for the navy safety program", the order read.

"All cases of abnormal blood counts shall be repeated. Forward results of all examinations to Bureau of Medicine and Surgery with personal data as to full name."

Technicality Saves Doomed Texas Killer

Austin, Tex., May 23—(AP)—The court of criminal appeals dismissed a case in which the defendant was sentenced to die, because the indictment failed to allege the use of feet as the means by which a 70-year-old woman was "kicked and stomped" to death.

The opinion reversed the proceedings of a Dallas trial court which had sentenced Buster Northern to death.

Northern was indicted for murder in the death of Fannie McHenry March 27, 1946. The indictment alleged "kicking and stomping" and made no mention that the act was committed by the feet.

Under the court's ruling Northern may be reindicted and tried again.

Fire Disaster Roli

W. E. Mallahan, General Manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, has called upon
all sections of industry for better
compliance with safety standards,
in order to prevent such disasters
as the fires and explosions which raged Texas City, killing hundreds of people, injuring thousands, and causing an enormous property loss.His organization, he said, "will do everything in its power to meet the challenge of fire in this age of increasingly hazardous chemical compounds. For this we are speeding up our research into
industry's fire problems.""But we call on all industry,
management and workers alike,
for wholehearted compliance with
all safety standards that are or may be promulgated."The American Red Cross has stated that fires are responsible for more disaster relief calls than
all other causes, including tornado, hurricane, and flood, combined. Furthermore, fire is often a contributing factor to loss of life
even in floods and tornadoes. It has become one of the greatest killers—even as it is one of the greatest destroyers of property.No community and no home is safe from fire. Eternal vigilance is necessary. The ghastly disaster
at Texas City, like the hotel fires
of last year, should have focused
the attention of the entire country
on this terrible menace.

Answer to Power Socialism

Can free enterprise meet the expanding needs of this great nation? A good answer to that is provided by an announcement
made some time ago by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company,
which serves a large part of the State of California.During the next five years, the announcement said, this utility
system will spend the gigantic sum of $300,000,000 to build new power plants and to increase the capacity of others, to expand its transmission and distribution facilities, and to add to its gas
capacity. This program, the company believes, is more than adequate to meet all demands—but if it is not, the company is prepared to appropriate still more money for expansion.Those who believe that only the government is capable of constructing new electric power
facilities sufficient to handle our needs should ponder a while over
this. They should, furthermore,
consider the great differences between private power development
and socialized power development.
The second robs state and local governments of great tax resources—even as it robs the nationNews
Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

(Copyright, 1947, by King
Features Syndicate, Inc.)Washington — Popular misconceptions of the terms of the two union reform bills have led to a wholly fictitious understanding of them. This extends throughout Washington, even to congress itself and certainly exists in certain
self-informed business quarters.
A certain senator lost not only a new hat and shirt, but an entire wardrobe, betting progressively
with another senator after the bill
was passed, as to whether the result of the closed shop would reduce the unions to deep difficulties.
Both senators were obviously oblivious of the truths of the matter
including these:1—The railroad brotherhoods
have prospered into one of the nations richest and most successful
segments of union labor without
the closed shop, or any similar
form of employer preference for union members, or assistance to
a union.2—The closed shop is an obsolete
form which not even the new deal
would endorse when it wrote the national labor relations act. It is but all the new labor unions, grown up in the last decade, favor the union shop, or the maintenance of membership shop, which amounts to the same thing in the end.3—This bill actually further legalizes and promotes the maintenance of membership and union
shops which the modern unions
like better instead of reducing unions to slavery, it has functioned
so successfully they do not want it changed.AFL's Bill Green has been saying the reform bills were written by the National Association of Manufacturers and not (as the bills say) to "prescribe fair and equitable rules of conduct" for both unions and management. If NAM
did, it certainly fell down on this
key union shop and checkoff provision far more than a truly objective authority, the Brookings Institute, working in the public interest, recommended as "a na-tional labor policy" in a booklet
by Harold Metz and Meyer Jacob-stein. Brookings said all forms of union preference should be banned,
not only the closed shop but also
the union shop. "Such provisions tend
to create a labor monopoly," said
Brookings, pointing out the unions
did not need these preferences anyway because they are already enthroned in actual control of the work. A closed shop requires an employer to hire only from union roles. A man must belong to the union before he can get a job. The union shop merely says the employer may hire whoever he chooses, but that persons must join the union within 30 days or some similar time limit. The unions still control the jobs by monopoly even under this bill.The railroad labor act absolutely forbade the checkoff also. Brookings pointed out. The checkoff is just a device to make the employer
collect union dues before giving
the man his pay. As such it "actually tends to reduce the responsibility of union officials to their members." The unions can collect
their own dues under this bill,
which really strengthens their ability to do so.These objective conclusions suggest not only can the unions get along well under the new bill, but perhaps better than well. While the bills actually were written
from the format of the railroad
labor law (rather than NAM),
they are weaker than that law in allowing a union shop, and also
weaker in allowing the checkoff,
if the union agrees to dues deductions from his pay in writing.Yet such a cloud had been drawn
over this situation, one ill-informed
business man typically lamented
the other day that the Republicans had made their law so strong,
He thought this was the reason for the decline of the stock market, because stockholders had not expected such strong legislation.
Actually the bills do not approach
the reasonable prospects for the legislation which were forecast
authentically in this column as far back as last December predicting
the rail labor act basis for the new law.However, even the best informed top Republicans are worried about
the extent of the misconceptions
and their apparent inability to cope with same. Actually they are afraid Mr. Truman will veto the legislation on the basis of very good inside reports (see this column published May 15) and are moderating the legislation further
in conference so as to make this more difficult.Mr. Truman cannot block this legislation by a veto. He must, in addition, change at least 4 of the 6
or 7 doubtful Democratic senators who voted for the senate bill and gave it more than a two-thirds majority. If these votes are switched against the bill, the issue then will be Mr. Truman plus 4 to 7 Democratic senators thwart-ing the decision of practically two-thirds of both houses of congress
favoring a bill milder than the railroad labor law which has been on the statute books for more than 20 years.If there is anything approximating objective public opinion left
in this country, the Republicans might encourage Mr. Truman to veto the legislation and present the issue this way.In 1775 the U. S. postoffice had 75 postmasters and a yearly gross
business of $38,000 compared with 450,000 employees and a gross income of $1,134,159,000 in 1915.As Pegler
Sees It

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright 1947, by King
Features Syndicate, Inc.)George Sokolsky, my colleague
in punditry, recently lauded a shirt for Governor Tom Dewey.
He explained that Irving L. Ives,
the freshman Republican senator from New York, was speaking strictly for himself and no for Dewey in opposing legislation to restrain the rascality of goons and thieves who run many of our unions. Sokolsky wrote, "I know for a fact that Dewey is not supporting Ives labor position at all."Knowing both Dewey and Sokolsky and how Sokolsky works, I dare say that Dewey told him so.
I assume that Ives has worried
Dewey by his opposition to the Republican policy on unions as represented by Senator Taft, and that, in this respect, Dewey wants to disown him. Many of our citizens and some speculative writers
drew the inference that Dewey
was trimming on the Republican mandate received in the election of last fall to write laws which would drag the parasites off the body of American labor and set the citizen free. Sokolsky says
this is not true and that Ives is off the reservation. I will take his word for it—and Dewey's.Now, if you will go back with me to some events of last August,
I will megaphone to you some
points of amusing but sad importance in our politics.When the Republicans were nominating their man for senator, Dewey wanted Lieut. Gen. Hugh
A. Drum, retired. Notwithstanding all the hypocritical clamor
against religion as a consideration in politics, every politician
knows, and so do many of the voters, that religion is in many cases
the first consideration. Franklin D. Roosevelt and other presidents
have bowed to this political rule,
one plain result of which is that we always have one Catholic and one justice of the Jewish faith on the Supreme court of the United States, as we have today, both appointees of Roosevelt, with religion the first consideration.General Drum is a Catholic.
Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan,
who opposed Drum, and Dewey,
for the Republican and Dewey
nomination, is a Catholic, too.
Dewey knew he could not handle
Donovan, who has a habit of being his own man, and, as head of the party, the governor opposed
him. Dewey was absolutely confident that he would win for himself, but it was conceded that he would have to two-rop his senatorial candidate, whoever that can-didate might be, in the contest against Herbert H. Lehman. Mr.
Lehman had made a good reputation as a governor, but, more-
over, the practical fact was recognized by both Democrats and Republicans that he would poll
an enormous Jewish vote in the city of New York, as he did. Because Jews and Catholics get along well in New York politics,
the Republicans, having no Jewish personality comparable to Lehman, decided to pick a Catholic. That would just about equalize things in the field of religious consideration.Inasmuch as Dewey's personal strength would be a factor in the election of the Republican candidate for senator, the managers of the Republican machine insisted that he deserved a man who would stay hatched and no loyal friend of Dewey. A smear was issued against Donovan charging
him with hostility to organized labor. That show of hostility had consisted of his performance of his sworn duty as a public prosecutor in sending to prison some
union criminals who had dynam-
ited a passenger car on a street
railroad 25 years ago. This smear appeared to help Donovan. A whispered insinuation then started
that although Donovan was a Catholic, he was not a "good"
Catholic and therefore would be
opposed by the "good" Catholics,
especially in Buffalo. The Republicans injected the religious issue against one of their own party.
Donovan disposed of this by quiet
reference to the fact that he had recently received two Papal decorations for his "humanitarian
works" in the second world war.
He had received the Congressional Medal of Honor for valor in the first one.After some haggling, General Drum casually let it be known
that he never had been a candidate at all. Donovan couldn't beat Dewey's strength, so in the end
the Republicans picked Irving M.
Ives, who had served a long time
in the Albany legislature and had
puttered in labor legislation there.
Ives is a Protestant. Dewey carried him on his coattails.Then Ives went to Washington
and in his first few months struck
out on his own independent course
on union legislation. A handmade senator threw down his boss.
Would Donovan have been more pervasive?We don't know, but the point
is that for all the mouthing of platitudes in abhorrence of "religion in politics," religion nevertheless is played upon constantly by both parties. To be sure, it is exploited in the positive sense by
the nomination of men whose religious pull is carefully reckonedin their favor and not in antagonism to any religion or religious groups. But Jim Farley would be the last to deny that the delicate business of balancing a ticket with a due proportion of Protestants, Catholics and Jews, and nowadays, an occasional Negro, is most important in the qualifications of a state chairman. I once sat in the private business office
of a Democratic state chairman
of New York and heard him turn down his own brother, a Catholic,
for a place on a county ticket with
the explanation that the ticket
was perfectly balanced and must not be disturbed. But next time,
maybe.We live in a world of political
lies and false pretenses.

(Telegraph Special Service)

Franklin Grove, May 23 —
Charles E. Kelley was born in Franklin Grove, August 12, 1887,
and passed from this life at the KSB hospital in Dixon, Sunday morning, May 18, 1947. He was 59 years, nine months and six days of age. He was the son of Frank D. and Elizabeth Plessinger-
Kelley and was married to Miss Georganna Wells, October 26,
1910, who passed away April 10, 1930. He was connected with the Kelley hardware store in Franklin Grove since 1908. In 1940 he was appointed postmaster, which position he held at the time of his passing. He was married to May Conlon, January 16, 1933, who shared with him the comforts of home and the problems of life in both health and through sickness
to the last. He was a member of Masonic lodge, No. 264, A.F. & A.M.
for many years.Mr. and Mrs. Kelley went to New Orleans, La., in January fora short rest, thinking that it might benefit his health, then two months ago he was taken to the hospital, but his time was shorter than was thought.Charles E. Kelley is survived by his wife, Mrs. May Kelley, two daughters, Mrs. George Knouse of Senger. Ladies arranging the flowers were: Mrs. Frank Hatch,

Mrs. Fred Bettendorf and Mrs.
Don Scharpe. Fred Kipler was in charge of the cars.A precious one from us has gone.
A voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our home.
That never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled
The boon His love hath given.
And if through patient toil,
We reach that land
Where tired feet, with sandals
loosed, may rest,
When we shall clearly see and
understand,
I think that we shall say, "God
knew the best."

The Tollivers

By MATEEL HOWE FARNHAM

• THE STORY: I was off in boarding school when Otsego
went into a ditch of excitement
over the funeral of young Hubert Tolliver, who had committed suicide after cashing a forged check. Up to that time, I had never heard of Hubert or any of the other Tollivers who were to become our town's most famous family. Father wrote
they were penniless newcomers
but that Hubert's mother and sisters had aided such an elaborate funeral for him the whole town turned out for it. This phenomenon was now known as the Tolliver girls' debut into Otsego society.WHEN I came home to Otsego
for my brief Easter vacation I found that our next-door neighbors and dear friends the Carstens
were moving very soon to California. As I remember it, the whole vacation was taken up with parties
for the Carstens. Naturally I

North Central P.T.A. Sees Projects of Sewing, Manual Arts Students

North Central P. T. A. members held their final meeting of the year yesterday afternoon in the school gymnasium with Mrs. Charles F. Johnston, Jr., president presiding. During the business session preceding the program announcement was made of the pageant, "Humanity's heart," which will be given June 3 at 8:00 o'clock at the Loveland House under the sponsorship of the Lee County Nursing Council. The pageant will depict the history of nursing and is presented in an effort to interest young people in the profession.

Opening of Camp Ralston for Girl Scouts of Dixon and surrounding communities was discussed and a plea made for volunteers to assist in the essential preparations.

Mrs. Johnston reported on the "Summer Round-Up" program stating that all 58 students who enrolled in the first grades at North Central at the beginning of the school year had thorough physical examinations and that all recommended corrections had been adjusted. A similar program will be carried on this year.

Projects of the group during the year were reported by Mrs. Lou Hansen, financial chairman. These included: the purchase of a phonograph, 15 pictures for the various rooms, library books, dolls for the kindergarten, a vacuum cleaner, a set of encyclopedias and a movie projector. The latter was formally presented to Miss Molly Duff, school principal, who thanked the group and explained the accomplishments and advantages of visual education.

The members voted to sponsor a new Boy Scout troop to be organized in the near future and arrangements for holding meetings at the school will be made. The group also voted to contribute to the Dixon Religious Education Fund.

Program of the afternoon was given by students of Miss Gladys Jamison's home economics classes and Charles Roundy's manual training classes. The latter explained that his instruction begins in the sixth grade and continues through the eighth grade with the time equally devoted to mechanical drawing and wood work. A project display included articles made of wood, tin and aluminum. Miss Jamison presented her eighth grade home economics students in a playlet which included a style show. Girls modeling play clothes, dresses, skirts and blouses were Nancy Andrews, Susie Schreiber, Francis Lahey, Eileen Huffman, Jackie Kelly, Patsy Warner, Carole Stoddard, Marilyn Carry, Rose Ann Deaton, Joyce Potter, Betty Dudman, Joanne Foster, Alice Tate, Peggy Sue Anderson and Duanna Long. June Hansen acted as announcer for the exhibit.

Turkeys have been developed to meet the needs of today's consumer. "Beltsville Small Whites" and other small birds have been bred to fit apartment-size ovens. Very large birds have been developed for use in restaurants and similar establishments.

Even the core of the apple serves a good purpose these days. The refuse or pomace left after the flesh or juice is used goes into the making of peclins and stock feed.

Arkansas state police said Duke told him that "something just jumped over me" as he rode in the cab.

After he had stabbed the woman, Templeton quoted Duke further, she stopped the cab, opened the door and ran several yards before she collapsed from loss of blood.

Templeton said the Negro stated he had tried to rape the woman but was unsuccessful.

President Is Tense
The president, tense and emotional after a week made up of long hours of anxious vigil at her bedside, was torn between two roles.

He had important affairs awaiting him in Washington, yet he feared the effects of his departure on the tired heart of his mother.

His daily presence at her bedside since a dangerous relapse a week ago has been Graham's principal hope for a continuance of her will to live.

Meanwhile the "White House" was functioning at the elderly Mrs. Truman's home and from headquarters in the Hotel Muehlebach in nearby Kansas City.

In the hotel suite, an emergency switchboard functioned to keep the president in immediate communication with Washington as well as with any local capital.

A Navy courier plane flies back and forth between Missouri and Washington enabling the chief executive to keep up with the mass of papers that he must handle every day, regardless of where he is.

County Tax Payers

tending the taxes because of the long wait on a state Supreme court decision on the new Budget 100 per cent tax laws, thus slowing processing in the treasurer's office.

Abbott, stressing the fact that the June 1 deadline has been moved back a month, said that special notices to this effect are being mailed in all tax envelopes. The Sept. 1 deadline for second installment real estate payments remains as before.

Up 26 Per Cent

"Tax bills in the city of Dixon will be approximately 26 per cent higher than those paid last year," he revealed. "Throughout Lee county the taxes differ in percentage increase according to the amount of tax in each separate school district."

"However," he added, "the people of Lee county must bear in mind that neither the treasurer's office, which prepares the bills, mails them and collects them, nor the county clerk's office, which extends the taxes, is responsible for the increase."

(The hike here is not as great as that reported in other sections, however. Rockford bills are reported 35 per cent above last year's level, while most counties in the state are experiencing increases from 45 to 50 per cent. One southern county has reported an increase of 68 per cent over last year.)

Cost, Salaries Higher
Increases in many instances on school taxes are caused by increased salaries and maintenance, he pointed out.

"In the city of Dixon," he said, "the public, in referendum, also approved during the past year the new county health unit, as well as a new recreation tax (swimming pool) which means increased levies and will automatically enter the picture as other reasons for the increase."

More than 95 per cent of the tax bills are now ready for mailing, Abbott said, with only a part of Dixon to finish.

In an effort to avoid confusion in the expected taxpayers' rush to his office, he indicated that all bills will be mailed at once, adding that the notices should be in hands of the individual tax payers by Wednesday.

He estimated that the rush of payments will begin within two days after the delivery of the bills and probably will continue for two weeks or more before tapering off in the middle of June. The tempo, he thinks, will pick up again, as the new July 1 deadline approaches.

debate, approved a routine deficiency appropriation bill providing $117,428,000 in funds for several government agencies to operate the rest of this year.

Tacked onto that measure, however, was an inconspicuous senate "rider" directing the treasury to pay off immediately $641,820,000 in Commodity Credit Corporation notes.

The president had proposed that the treasury pay back into the CCC capital fund next year $830,000,000 which it had borrowed in order to make food subsidy payments under the wartime program of holding prices down without penalizing farmers.

In approving that program, congress empowered the CCC to borrow from the treasury with the understanding that any loss would be made up later by an appropriation.

The CCC issued notes to the treasury on these borrowing, and in his budget message to congress last January Truman said the note cancellation would show as an expenditure in general accounts and a receipt in corporation accounts.

Reasoning Disputed
Thus, he said, the transaction "will have no net effect on budget expenditures or on the appropriations recommended for 1948."

But Bridges disputed this reasoning. He contended the money has been spent and must be made up out of regular appropriations.

Since Truman's budget message was written, however, the CCC has reduced the amount of its notes, presumably through income from its loan and other farm operations.

It was the amount still outstanding that Bridges' committee—with senate and house concurrence—ordered retired by June 30. Bridges said this will have the effect of reducing by more than half the president's estimated $1,250,000,000 surplus for the current year.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he regards the action as justified on the grounds that all of the CCC money had been spent on food subsidies before July 1, 1946. The Republicans merely decided to pay this year what the Democrats proposed to pay next year, he told a reporter.

designed to assure wool growers that until the end of 1948 they will get at least as high prices as they did in 1946. The bill also requires the president to impose import fees if the tariff commission found foreign wool was hurting the market for domestic wool.

McCormack read from a letter from Undersecretary of State Will Clayton saying that if the import fee provision is accepted "we stand convicted of insincerity" in trade talks with other nations.

"I don't see how this bill can do other than face a veto unless it is changed," McCormack said.

"The Constitution," Helleck shot back, "never intended the veto as a usurpation of legislative power."

"I'll never subscribe to the principle of congress writing just the legislation the president wants and nothing else."

Halleck walked out of the chamber, into a lobby, and told reporters:

"That is something I've been wanting to get off my chest for a long time."

Bobtales

By BOB FALLSTROM

Up at Polo, Bob Breckenridge is winding up a terrific coaching year that saw his teams win track and basketball titles and miss the grid bauble only because of a schedule mixup.

The stocky, likeable mentor experienced the best athletic results of any nearby tutor. And to make it doubly hard, he was head coach of each sport.

Bob opened his successful campaign last September with a poundage light grid squad, averaging 142 in the backfield and 157 up front.

Before Thanksgiving the Blue and Gold piled up six victories and a tie in eight starts, losing only to Hononegah of Rockton in a 20-18 upset.

Unfortunately, schedule arguments, long a Rock River Valley conference sore spot, came to a head. Polo failed to card Morrison and Rochelle, the circuit's two perennial strong boys. Paper forfeits followed, marring the record with a pair of defeats.

Nevertheless, Breckenridge's gridders won four RRVC games to tie Rochelle for second. Meanwhile, the reserve bunch was sweeping six in a row. Auguring another fine season next fall.

"Breck," turned his attention to basketball. Again the Marcos proved little short of sensational among schools of equal size.

They won the newly-formed Blackhawk conference title and tied Morrison for the Rock River prize, finishing the regular season with 16 wins in 22 games.

Track season rolled around and Polo appeared to be "down." The Raley twins, Edmund and Edward, were consistent point winners but the cindermen failed to show title proclivities.

Then came this week's Blackhawk meet on Polo's home grounds. Lanark, a Carroll county member, was favored. But the Marcos, catching fire and showing fine team balance, won out, 66 points to 62½, capping a brilliant 1946-1947 campaign.

Three boys ranked outstanding for Breckenridge this past year—George Smith and the Raleys.

Smith scored 118 points from his fullback position on the gridiron, was a basketball regular and won the Blackhawk half-mile. The Raleys—starred in basketball, where they were potent pointmakers, and in track. Edmund copped both Blackhawk hurdle races while Edward won the broad jump.

The Smithville, Mo., coach winds up his third year at Polo next week. But he isn't quitting sports for the summer—he'll head a softball league in the Marco city.

Judging from Bob's past record, Polo couldn't ask for a better chieftain... winning seems to be part of his makeup.

SNAZZY OUTFITS—Lindquist's are set to open their softball campaign in colorful rayon uniforms, which arrived yesterday.

The suits consist of long blue trousers with a wide yellow side stripe, blue jerseys with yellow sleeves and lettering and blue caps.

Other clubs are awaiting outfits and will play in street clothes in the meantime.

TRACK PRACTICE—A group of grade school track boys, including Coach Fred Padgett and his lightweight delegation from Lincoln, worked out on the high school paths last night in preparation for next week's city-wide meet.

Plans for Hornsby's Visit Here Revealed

Plans for Rogers Hornsby's visit here June 4 have reached the completion stage, Paul Potts, co-chairman of a Junior Chamber of Commerce arrangements committee, said today.

The famous ex-sluggar arrives in Dixon at approximately 11 a. m. June 4, accompanied by Johnny Orr, Beloit college athlete, and Jack Ryan, nationally known Chicago Daily News sports scribe.

At noon, the group is to be honored guests at a Lions club dinner at the Dixon Country Club.

From 2:30 p. m. until 5, Hornsby will stage his Chicago Daily News Free Baseball school at Reynolds field. Then at 6:30, Hornsby, Orr and Ryan attend a Jaycee dinner at Plum Hollow.

Hornsby's Reynolds field school opens with demonstrations for high school boys and other interested older persons. Grade schools will be dismissed at 3 p. m. for students in the upper grades and younger children will also be permitted to leave at that time if accompanied by their parents. Superintendent of Schools A. H. Lancaster revealed. Otherwise, students may attend the school following classes, which end at 3:30 p. m. In case of rain, the demonstrations will be held in the high school gym.

Outsiders Invited

In promoting this top baseball treat, the Junior Chamber of Commerce emphasizes that it is not a closed affair. Players from surrounding towns are welcome, along with youngsters and diamond fans from Dixon. The school is absolutely free and does not carry any obligations.

Hornsby, famed as the National league's No. 1 righthand hitter of all time and peerless second baseman, has been associated with the Chicago newspaper for several years in presenting baseball lectures and demonstrations.

Usually, however, he has confined his activities to larger towns. Dixon is only one of three communities in this area to obtain Hornsby's appearance this summer. The others are Rockford and Freeport, much larger population centers.

Hornsby, Ryan and Orr will spend the day together with a special list of invited guests: Paul Potts and James E. Bales, Jaycee co-chairmen of the event; Bob Fallstrom, sports editor of The Telegraph; Mayor J. Fred Hoffmann, John Bovey, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Hank Henry, president of the Midwest league's Eastern division. Ward Miller, former Chicago Cub outfielder who is high commissioner of the Midwest circuit; Irvin Knauer of West Brooklyn, Western division Midwest league president and Ray Walter of Gompion, Central division Midwest league president.

In the eleventh round of the Mixed league, Victory Cafe rolled into a tie for first with Weidman's by taking three sets from Horton's while Weidman's were able to win but two from Jess Electric, each team ending with 22 wins and 11 losses. Zentz, with a three-game win over 7-11, took third with 20-13 and they Bros and Lady Elites are tied for the fourth spot with 18 and 14. Four more rounds remain in the schedule, two next week and the following week, which will bring the season to a close.

MEN'S DOUBLES TONIGHT

What will probably be the last men's doubles of the year, turned out to be unexpectedly popular with the leaders at the Recreation with groups from Mt. Morris and Polo entering which has forced Ken to roll it off in two shifts, the first one at 8:00 o'clock, and the second at 8:00. There are still a few spots left on the 8:00 o'clock shift, and you may choose your own partner and enter anytime before the kegling starts. Full league handicap.

Wiremen and Steers Play Feature Tilt

At last all obstacles have been defeated and given fair weather, softball steps out in its postwar debut at the airport tonight. Two games are scheduled—VFW vs. Three Deuces at 7:30 o'clock sharp and Barrick Steers vs. Reynolds Wire at 9 o'clock.

Missing here during the war years, the game makes its re-entry through the promotional efforts of George Reynolds. Reynolds heads an eight-team league, assisted by veteran players Harry Slain and Lyle Fordham.

A completely new and modernized layout is ready for the first pitch. Six poles of arc lights flood the diamond, which has been swung to the right, eliminating a former hangar hazard.

Three sets of bleachers on the first and third base sides accommodate spectators. There's also a new backstop, press box and public address system.

Steers vs. Reynolds Wire Work on the infield, which is completely skinned and will see hardball service, too, was completed yesterday. At one time a serviceable diamond was practically despoiled of, because of late spring rains, but now the infield is firm and smooth.

Tonight's second game ranks as the feature. "Flash" Fordham, Reynolds Wire pilot, has lined up an outstanding club of experienced hands while "Corky" Kernan banks on a predominantly youthful Barrick Steers cast.

Kernan's anticipated batting order appears as follows: Bud Lair, c; Pete Webster, 1f; Manager Kernan, ss; Art Toffe, cf; Chuck Ramsey, 1b; Rho Riopelle, p; Bay Walters, 3b; Joe Beecher, 2b; Bill Moore, rf.

Fordham has indicated he plans to open with either Red Flanagan or Ralph Nicklaus in left field; Zael Spinden in center; either Ken Elliott or Bob Cramer in right; Shires Miller at short; Harry Slain at first; Earl Page at third; Joe Murphy, catching; Ken Haselberg or Bus Carlson at second. Either Fordham or George Weigle will chuck.

Bill Bushman manages Three Deuces. His pitcher tonight is Joe Curlee. The remainder of the lineup is still in doubt but other players on the roster are Carmen Patterson, John Glinger, Bob Miller, Eddie Mann, Ted Maves, Bill Bowers, Paul Bollinger, Armand Bushman, Ken Bishop, Regan, Howard Hahn, Patterson and Eddie Bushman.

Eugene Brooks' VFW starters probably will be Dick Conkrite, 3b; Harvel Van Oosten, ss; Don Harmon, 2b; Warren Rizer, 1b; Bill Lindbloom, lf; Carroll Hose, cf; Pat Lally, rf; Art Carlson, catching and Paul Van Oosten pitching.

GEMS OF THOUGHT THE BEAUTIFUL

In all ranks of life the human heart yearns for the beautiful; and the beautiful things that God makes are His gift to all alike.

—H. B. Stowe

By cultivating the beautiful we scatter the seeds of heavenly flowers, as by doing good we cultivate those that belong to humanity.

—Howard

That which is striking and beautiful is not always good, but that which is good is always beautiful.

—Ninon de L'Enclos

Life and goodness are immortal. Let us then shape our views of existence into loveliness, freshness and continuity, rather than into age and blight.

—Mary Baker Eddy

The beauty of holiness has done more, and will do more, to regenerate the world and bring in everlasting righteousness than all the other agencies put together.

—Chalmers

Loveliness Needs not the aid of foreign ornament. But is when adorned the most.

—James Thomson

★ SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON The Fall of the Northern Kingdom

Scripture: II Kings 17:5-12, 22, 23; Isaiah 28:1-4

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. "The Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, but the way of the ungodly shall perish."

That is as true concerning peoples and nations as it is of individuals. And it is as true today as it was in ancient times.

Ten of the 12 tribes of Israel, it will be recalled, had revolted under Jeroboam, the rebel against Solomon. Jeroboam returned from Egypt to lead the successful revolution against Rehoboam, Solomon's son, when the latter refused to lighten the burdens that Solomon had imposed upon the people. Two tribes, Judah and Benjamin, remained loyal to Solomon's successor, in the Southern Kingdom.

The Northern Kingdom, with its 10 tribes, should have been the stronger. But it had in it from the beginning elements of dissolution and defeat. Jeroboam, who came to power with a great opportunity of correcting the abuses of Solomon's reign, was not long in revealing his baseness and weakness. He set up altars of idolatry and led his people in false and dishonorable ways.

Weakness from within left the nation unprepared and almost helpless when danger struck from without. It was a situation calling for wise strategy and sound judgment. But what wise strategy or judgment can there be when there is a lack of sound and honest character? The weakness from within had the familiar aspects of all social failure and deterioration—dishonesty and corruption in public and in private life, licentiousness and debauchery among the well-to-do, disregard of the poor, exploitation of the people, and all the evils that have cursed society in the past and are found today even in our democratic lands.

This is a temperance lesson, and the prophecies of the time in their revelation of the social abuses stress how large a part strong drink had in breaking down moral ale, bringing woe and destruction upon the nation.

Temperance lessons and lectures are not popular today. The prevalent psychology is favorable to drinking and indulgence, when a generation ago it was favorable to total abstinence. It is fair to make a distinction between drinking and drunkenness, between use and abuse of intoxicants as of other things.

But it is important to remember that intoxicating liquor has in it inherent dangers that do not apply to all other things. The Bible is a temperance textbook, full of warning, and its warnings are borne out in the history of men and nations. The Northern Kingdom went down in ruin, and any nation that does not overcome evil with good is doomed to similar disaster.

Bevin Press Blasts Recalls Big Shift in Britain's Viewpoint

Hospitable to Reporters
Now, Formerly Looked Down on Them

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
(AP) Foreign Affairs Analyst
Britain's outspoken foreign secretary, Ernest Bevin, says one of the greatest handicaps in international negotiations (specifically the recent big four conference in Moscow) is that a chap can't even think out loud without his thoughts being "hurled into headlines in the press."

U. S. Secretary of State Marshall disagrees with this conclusion, and favors full news coverage. One suspects that Mr. Bevin really feels the same but has been irked for the moment by some unwelcome experience and has let the sun go down upon his wrath.

Different From 1918
Anyway, one feels sure that Bevin wouldn't turn back the clock on a freedom of the press to which England has contributed so much during the past generation of progress. During my last visit to London a year ago all I had to do to secure a private conversation with Prime Minister Attlee was to signify that I desired it.

But it wasn't always thus in his majesty's domains. When I went to London as a correspondent during the first World War, communication with a government office by telephone was almost unheard of. If you wanted an interview you wrote a note of request, and perhaps a week later you got an appointment. Then you presented yourself in morning coat and striped trousers, and of course that outfit called for the inevitable silk hat.

However, the first World War brought unprecedented pressure on government offices for news, especially from the persistent Yankee reporters, and secretaries were assigned to deal with the press.

Held in Low Esteem
My first experience, with getting a big story over the phone from a government office was a real thriller. There was a rumor in the financial district that the great Lord Kitchener, secretary of war, had been drowned in the sinking of the Hampshire while enroute to Russia. In the emergency I telephoned the press secretary at the foreign office, and was flabbergasted when he replied without hesitation: "I'm sorry to say that the report is true."

Before that war (and even after it) newspapermen were divided into two classes. There were an exclusive few at the top who were called journalists, and then there were the great rank and file who were just plain "pressmen," regarded as very low caste indeed. I recall that a lord mayor of Liverpool once remarked to an English newspaper friend of mine (since knighted for distinguished reporting): "I always treat pressmen as though they were gentlemen."

Vast Change Since
During the unforgettable closing days of the conflict, when the allies were rushing for the kill, there was a tremendous shortage of motor cars and American correspondents suddenly found themselves bereft of transportation. Our commandant tried his best to secure cars and finally in desperation asked me to make an appeal direct to the commander-in-chief, Field Marshal Haig.

So a message was sent to the C-in-C, reciting our predicament. It was on the eve of the second battle of Mons, just before the armistice, and I pointed out that the people of America would be deprived of the full story of his historic engagement. Well, in about 24 hours automobiles began to arrive at our headquarters and they kept coming until there were seven. Meantime, however, the other correspondents had launched out on their own, and I was master of all seven cars. When I met a brass-hat from GHQ he gave me a weather eye and said:

"You sure raised hell at GHQ."

Railroad Official Hits "Political Expediency"

Springfield, Ill., May 23—(AP)—A railroad official last night criticized rulings of state and federal regulatory bodies that require railroads to continue "little used and uneconomical services to please minority groups of either patrons or rail employees."

I. B. Tigrett, president of the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio railroad, said that regulatory agencies were "presumably an arm of the public" but that they "repeatedly rule against the public's interest."

"If the railroads were permitted to substitute sound judgment for political expediency in the removal of useless operating expenditures," Tigrett said, "the money saved could be used in buying additional equipment or in providing additional service which would rebound to the benefit of the whole instead of the few."

House Group Opposes Election Contest Bid

Springfield, Ill., May 23—(AP)—The Illinois house elections and reapportionment committee has recommended dismissal of an election contest filed by Schuyler B. Vaughan, Republican of Greenville, against Rep. Leland Kennedy (D-Alton).

The group voted 14-0 yesterday to adopt the unanimous report of a seven member subcommittee which investigated Vaughan's complaint. The subcommittee held that Vaughan in his notice of contest failed to make a prima facie case. Final disposition of the contest will be decided by the house membership after it formally receives the full committee's recommendation.

Smart Lives Up to His Name With His Seamstress Work

Makes Shirt on a Dare, Then Turns Out His Daughter's

By HAL BOYLE
Joplin, Mo. — (AP) — Everett Smart always held the theory a man could do anything a woman could do and better.

A year ago he got the opportunity to prove his point. Shirts were expensive and scarce. One day he casually asked his wife, Jewel, whether she wouldn't make him a few shirts if he bought her the material.

"Oh, honey, they're too hard to make," she replied.

"Hmphh," she grumbled. Smart, unconvinced, "I could make a shirt with the sewing machine stuck up my sleeve."

"I'd like to see you do it, and you can leave the sewing machine on the floor," said friend wife.

Smart Begins to Smart

The matter would have ended there except that at dinner that evening Mrs. Smart announced to their two daughters, Jean Ann, 14, and Mary Jane, 12: "Girls, your father is going to make a shirt. Tee hee."

His ego offended, the essential male in him challenged, Smart boldly announced, "I will make a shirt, too."

His excited daughters spread the word around and the neighborhood kids began dropping in to see if it were really true. Smart had to produce.

He was 42 years old and telegraph editor of the Joplin News Herald. He had written poetry and fiction and worked simultaneously on two novels.

never used a needle for anything but digging out a splinter.

He Studies Carefully

"I got out my mother-in-law's sewing machine that had been gathering dust," he said. "Then I put the male reasoning mind to work. For two days I studied the book of instructions that come with sewing machines. That is something women never do. That is why few women ever learn to use all the attachments."

"I bought a 20 cent shirt pattern and studied it as carefully as a contractor handed the architect's blue prints of the Empire State building. Then I went to work on the shirt. It took me two weeks to finish it."

"My daughter, Jean Ann, liked it and said, 'Daddy, I want you to make me a formal dress.'"

Formal a Success

"I cut a hole in a newspaper and put it over her head. I clipped the paper to the shape of the body and used it for a pattern. It worked fine. She was the belle of the ball and got lots of compliments."

Somewhat amazed at his own success, Smart really went to work on his spare time sewing. He began to create his own designs. He made cuts for both his daughters, two more shirts for himself, coats for the girls and is now completing a suit for himself.

His fame spread.

Neighborhood women came to ask him how he set in sleeves or fashioned shoulders. They had seen his sewing and wanted to learn how to do as well.

Smart has himself become seriously interested in clothes designing.

"I still insist that a man is the best tailor," he said, "because he is more patient and practical."

Northwest Wheat Crop Periled by Dry Spring

Spokane, Wash., May 23—(AP)—The wheat crop on hundreds of thousands of acres in the Pacific northwest reached a critical stage today as a result of a dry, early spring.

Grain dealers reported that while rains in the next few days could make fair to good crops, yields already had been cut on thousands of acres.

In many areas, they said every day without rain will mean a proportionate reduction in yields. Hardest hit are the western part of Washington state's Big Bend country and north-central Oregon. The weather bureau held some hopes for showers in the Washington-Idaho district in a few days but in Oregon no rain was in sight and high temperatures were expected.

Population of Italy Is Growing Steadily

ROME—(AP)—Crowded Italy's population jumped another half million in 1946.

That was the margin of births over deaths in the first full post-war year.

Tabulation of official statistics showed that 1,022,231 babies were born in 1946, against 820,591 in 1945 while only 541,629 Italians died compared with 619,949 the year before.

Moreover, the statistics pointed out, there were 413,083 marriages last year against 304,998 in 1945 and 223,673 in 1944.

That would mean more babies in 1947, they said, and, if things kept up that way, the country's population would reach 50,000,000 in 10 years.
